

REST ROOMS

A wooden door is open, revealing a cluttered office space. The door is covered with various papers, including a map, a checklist, and a document titled "Vital Signs". A person wearing a dark, patterned dress and high heels is sitting on a bench or desk in the adjacent room, looking towards the shelves. The shelves are filled with stacks of papers and folders.

A floor lamp with a tall, cylindrical, textured shade is lit, casting a warm glow. The lamp sits on a small, round, black side table. On the table, there is a white disposable cup, a tissue box, and a small brown container. The lamp is positioned against a wall with vertical wood paneling.

A dark wood chair with a blue upholstered seat and backrest is positioned in the corner. On the chair, there is a stack of magazines or brochures, including one with "IOWA" on the cover. The chair is set against a wall with vertical wood paneling.

Two white cardboard boxes are stacked on the floor in the corner of the room. The top box has some text on it, but it is mostly illegible. The boxes are positioned near the base of the wall with vertical wood paneling.

A large, solid wood door with a brass doorknob is closed. The door has a natural wood grain finish. It is set against a wall with vertical wood paneling.
